LLAS 270  Readings in Latino/Latin American Studies  (0-1)
Readings and discussions in specific areas of Latino/Latin American Studies. Topics tied to on-campus lectures, performances, or exhibits presented by invited speakers or artists. Approval of the Latino/Latin American Studies Program Chair and/or the faculty moderator of the reading circle required. This course can be repeated for credit with the permission of the Program Director.  S-U grading only.

LLAS 280A  Politics & Society in Cuba  (1)
Study in Cuba provides a unique opportunity to learn about a nation’s past and present. It remains a mystery to many and hostile relations between the governments of the United States and Cuba have sharply limited contact between the two countries for almost forty years. Current U.S. law still restricts the travel of U.S. citizens to the island nation. However, this course, which will obtain legal permission to be in Cuba, is a unique opportunity to study Cuban history and the political and economic system of one of the world’s few remaining socialist countries. Students do reading on the historic background of the area under study and then focus on contemporary political, social, and economic issues through meetings with resource people: professors, political and religious leaders, and grass roots organizers. The course will be conducted in English but knowledge of Spanish will definitely enhance appreciation of our stay in Cuba and study of Cuban history, politics and society. Offered for A-F Grading only.

LLAS 280B  Brazil: People & Culture  (2)
On the Brazil short term program, students will live on an island in southeastern Brazil called Florianopolis (known as Floripa). Florianopolis is a modern and cosmopolitan area with over 42 beaches, rolling mountains, the Atlantic rainforest, and soft white sand dunes. Expect to cook and eat regional food, learn some survival Portuguese, and participate in Brazilian dance! On this short-term program, you will discuss and reflect on your experiences in Brazil, and complete required coursework.

LLAS 360  Topics in LLAS  (4)
An in-depth examination of selected topics in Latino/Latin American Studies at the upper-division level. Course may be repeated when topics vary and with consent of the LLAS Program Chair.

LLAS 371  Individual Learning Project  (1-4)
Supervised reading or research in Latino/Latin American Studies at the upper-division level. Permission of LLAS Program Chair required.

LLAS 399  Senior Project  (0-1)
An independent, interdisciplinary project completed during the senior year. Students complete the project under the supervision of appropriate faculty members. The Director of Latino/Latin American Studies must approve the project. Offered for A-F grading
