Billing for summer study abroad programs is typically limited to student and parent loans. Your eligibility and choice of loans depend primarily on how many credits you will be taking while abroad. For programs less than 6 credits, you are limited to non-federal private loan options, which require a co-signer.

If you are taking 6 or more credits during the summer, you may be eligible to borrow through the Federal Direct Loan or your parents may be eligible to borrow through the Federal Direct PLUS Loan. However, students should be aware of how utilizing these funds may impact the amount of aid available for the following academic year. You also may be eligible for non-federal private loan options, which requires a co-signer.

You are encouraged to meet with the Financial Aid Office to discuss available options for funding a summer study abroad program.
