GREEK COURSES SPRING 2019

GREK 112 Beginning Greek II (4)
Celsiana Warwick
MWF 12:40 – 1:35 pm QUAD 247
This is the second course in a two-course sequence designed to enable students to read ancient Greek, including both Attic and Koine dialects. Over the course of the year we will learn the principle elements of Greek grammar, syntax, and vocabulary. Students also will have an opportunity to read the New Testament in its original Greek text and to develop and understanding of the historical and theological perspectives that shaped it. Prerequisite is GREK 111 or permission of the instructor. (Replaces GREK 115/116)

GREK 271 Independent Study (1-4)
Supervised reading or research at the upper-division level. Permission of department chair and completion and/or concurrent registration of 12 credits within the department required. Consult department for applicability towards major requirements. Not available to first-year students.

GREK 345 Studies in Plato (4)
Scott D Richardson
MWF 9:10 – 10:05 am QUAD 254
Reading of one or more Platonic dialogues (such as the Apology, Crito, Phaedo, Symposium) with emphasis on the technique of the Socratic dialogue, prose style, Plato's view of the soul, and the theory of forms.

GREK 399 Senior Capstone (2)
Sarah C Pruett
All majors must present a senior project in a public forum. In consultation with a faculty advisor, students choose a project appropriate to their previous course of study and/or their individual goals. Students completing 398 on a topic relevant to their Classics major do not need to complete GREK 399.
